

Tottenham host Everton at 12.30am SGT Sunday with Spurs still goalless

Description

Tottenham Hotspur host Everton at Tottenham Hotspur Stadium on Saturday (12 September 2026), with kick-off at 5.30pm BST (12.30am SGT on Sunday). Tottenham Hotspur said Mykhailo Mudryk is out with an ankle injury for the Matchweek 4 Premier League meeting, while BBC Sport notes Spurs are still goalless and Everton remain unbeaten.

Tottenham Hotspur and Everton crests ahead of the 12 September 2026 Premier League meeting. Photo: BBC Sport

Spurs still searching for a first goal

Roberto De Zerbi's side sit 18th after three games with one point and no goals scored, one of only two Premier League clubs yet to find the net alongside Aston Villa. Their sole point came from a 0-0 draw at Nottingham Forest after a late Neco Williams strike was ruled out for handball by VAR.

De Zerbi has made eight starting XI changes across the opening three league fixtures, the most of any manager so far. Club team news also lists Dejan Kulusevski, Wilson Odobert and Xavi Simons as unavailable. James Maddison is back in the frame after a shoulder problem.

Tottenham Hotspur training ahead of the Everton fixture. Photo: Tottenham Hotspur

Everton arrive unbeaten on five points

Everton sit eighth with five points from one win and two draws. Their last outing finished 2-2 at Manchester United, where deadline-day signing Ainsley Maitland-Niles scored a 96th-minute equaliser, his first Premier League goal in nearly eight years.

BBC Sport reports Tottenham have lost only one of their last 17 Premier League home games against Everton (12 wins, four draws) and have never previously failed to score in any of their first four league games of a campaign.

Tottenham Hotspur match action from the 2026-27 Premier League season. Photo: Tottenham Hotspur

How to follow from Singapore

The fixture is live in the UK on Sky Sports. Tottenham Hotspur will carry live text and audio via its Match Centre, with video highlights on club channels from two hours after full time. Kick-off in Singapore is 12.30am on Sunday, 13 September 2026.

Date Created

12/09/2026

Author

jadeyeo

default watermark