

Victor's Kitchen opens Toa Payoh Food Alley after Chinatown Point closes

Description

Victor's Kitchen has opened a heartlands outlet at Food Alley, 190 Lorong 6 Toa Payoh, #01-532, after its Chinatown Point branch closed. The Toa Payoh counter began trading on Tuesday 6 October. The original Sunshine Plaza restaurant at 91 Bencoolen Street, #01-49, stays open.

default watermark

Victorâ??s Kitchen Golden Egg Yolk Lava Buns, S$6.70 for three. Photo: Victorâ??s Kitchen

Where it sits and when it opens

The new unit is in the Food Alley strip beside Toa Payoh Central, a short walk from Toa Payoh MRT and HDB Hub. The brand site lists Toa Payoh hours as 10.30am to 9pm daily, including public holidays.

Sunshine Plaza keeps Monday to Thursday and Sunday from 10.30am to 8pm, and Friday to Saturday from 10.30am to 9pm. Bencoolen MRT serves that outlet.

Dim sum and cha chaan teng signatures

The menu page still leads on Golden Egg Yolk Lava Buns, Victorâ??s King Prawn Dumplings, queen-sized siew mai with crab roe, steamed carrot cake with house XO sauce, fresh egg tarts and Golden Bo Lo Char Siew Butter Buns. Rice, porridge, chee cheong fun and double-boiled milk desserts sit further down the same list.

default watermark

Dim sum and cha chaan teng sides from the Victor's Kitchen menu. Photo: Victor's Kitchen

For pickup and delivery, Golden Egg Yolk Lava Buns are S$6.70 for three, King Prawn Dumplings at S$6.70 for three, queen-sized siew mai at S$6.50 for four, scallop lup cheong carrot cake with XO sauce at S$6.50, egg tarts at S$5.40 for two and HK Summer Iced Milk Tea at S$4.20.

default watermark

HK Summer Iced Milk Tea, S$4.20. Photo: Victor's Kitchen

Hong Kong chef, two Singapore addresses

The founding Hong Kong chef previously cooked at Victoria Hotel in Hong Kong and opened the Sunshine Plaza shop to serve Hong Kong-style dim sum in a kopitiam setting. Chinatown Point had been the second branch.

Toa Payoh is now the second active address beside Bencoolen. Pickup and delivery orders run through Oddle. Victor's Kitchen at Food Alley, 190 Lorong 6 Toa Payoh, #01-532, opens 10.30am to 9pm daily.

Date Created

07/10/2026

Author

meichua

default watermark