Jeeno and Motor City go for a third win

Jeeno won the CME Group Tour Championship last week to become the LPGAâ??s all-time career money leader, and now sits above US$24 million in career winnings after a fifth title of 2026. She is joined by Chinaâ??s Ruoning Yin, returning for her second start with Motor City, and Brooke Henderson. Across the green are Atlanta Driveâ??s Charley Hull, Andrea Lee and Australiaâ??s three-time major champion Minjee Lee, who makes her WTGL debut as the team looks for its first win.

Boston Common look to stay second

Boston Common are second behind Motor City on the SoFi Cup standings with three points, after an 8-3 win over Atlanta Drive on Tuesday. Koreaâ??s Ina Yoon, who had seven top-10s on the LPGA Tour this season, set a new WTGL ball speed record of 155mph in Match 4. New York Golf Club field Lydia Ko, Danielle Kang and Linn Grant as they look to bounce back from their opening-day defeat to Los Angeles GC.

The SoFi Center format

The league is played in a high-tech arena that blends a giant screen for long shots with a live, rotatable short-game green for shots inside 50 yards. Yoon said it plays differently from the simulator golf she grew up with in Korea, because the shots finish on real grass.
